OUR HISTORY

The 11th International Conference on Fisheries and Aquaculture is one of the best conferences organized by TIIKM with a proud history of 10 years. ICFA has been working with 12000+ networks from 45+ universities from 150+ countries throughout these 10 years. In 2024, it is poised to be a landmark event, aimed at revolutionizing the Fisheries and Aquaculture landscape.

The purpose of the International Conference of Fisheries and Aquaculture 2024 is to encourage the community of international researchers to share their experiences and discussions. We aim to equip global platforms with vital knowledge and the latest advancements, creating a platform for active international collaboration to address emerging challenges.

Our focus is on ICFA 2024 to explore cutting-edge aquaculture research, providing a unique platform for global networking and knowledge exchange among educators, researchers, policymakers, and stakeholders. The conference is designed to be a springboard for groundbreaking research and continuous professional growth. It plays a crucial role in shaping structures to efficiently confront future challenges. Ultimately, ICFA 2024 is set to position Fisheries and Aquaculture as a key force in forging a future that is more affluent, inclusive, and environmentally sustainable.
